

FOCUS OF THE CONFERENCE

In the era of fast developing world energy security and energy availability first and foremost necessity. Industry can develop by leaps and bounds if only sufficient energy availability is there. But situation is just reverse.

At present, whole world is passing through severe energy crisis. In India too, we are facing lot of electrical energy problems. There is always a gap between demand and supply. Hence, painfully we are facing the problems of load shedding.

The conventional energy sources are going to be exhausted within next 50 years. Hence more stress should be given on the utilization of renewable energy sources and trust to be put on system effectiveness.

Now a day's global scenario has been changed a lot and there is tremendous development in each & every Engineering fields. To meet this challenges Department of Electrical Engineering P.D.V.V.P. College of Engineering , Ahmednagar has planned this National Conference [EESGI -10] and is going to provide the platform for Engineering students community to participate, interact and present their ideas and share their views with others those who are in the same field and concern to face its challenges with equal might.
